This Paint Goes Farther and Cost Less to Make It go

Every maker of paint claims his paint goes the farthest. But, have any of them proven to you that it not only goes farthest—but costs less to make it go?

You can make some mighty poor paints cover a very respectable amount of space, if you brush and brush it out enough. But it's hard work to work it that way. So that's why we made our house and barn paint so easy working. It spreads so easy, it's easy to spread. If it's easy to spread, it's a lot more likely to be well spread—which is just plain everyday common sense.

Just why our paint is easy spreading and long lasting is not only because of what it's made of, but how it's made.

After all is said and done—the way to figure paint costs, is with a brush—not a pencil. Just to prove it, send for circular on Figuring Paint Costs with a Brush—Not a Pencil.

Lowe Brothers' Paints are sold by the one best dealer in each town.
